Publication date not specified, guessed to be between 1950-1975. Photomechanical reprint of original, along with Madam Mountford's life story as it was printed in the February 1921 issue of the Relief Society Magazine. "Madame Lydia Mountford presents the life of Christ in one of the rarest forms of history that has ever been published. having been born and raised as a Jew living in Jerusalem, she became personally acquainted with the traditions, customs and the rituals of the Jewish people. After she was converted to Christ as the Messiah, she later was converted to the restoration of His Gospel as revealed in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. It is not infrequent that new converts to Christianity will err on certain points of doctrine and Mrs. Mountford was no exception. Her views pertaining to the virgin birth, Christ without brothers and sisters, His celebrate life, etc., were written before she became a convert to the Latter-day Saints. However, her insight into Hebrew customs and traditions are impressive if not fascinating as she portrays this historical life of Jesus Christ'.
